

Wayside Marketing, Inc.

for iSeries (AS/400®)

Overview

PromptMail for iSeries is an email creation and delivery system designed to easily manage your spooled files. Email requests can be manually or automatically generated from your existing iSeries applications.

A major consideration in the design of PromptMail was to accommodate the needs of a variety of users. Among the many capabilities of PromptMail is its extreme ease of use and flexibility. PromptMail for iSeries menu options and display screens are easy to follow. In addition to the electronic manual, detailed explanations of all menu options and screens can be viewed on the screen by accessing the on-line help.

The PromptMail iSeries client program continually monitors the queue by the date and time the user staged the email request to be sent. PromptMail also gives you the ability to prioritize your email request in the queue through the full range of priority codes provided. This will allow important email requests to get special attention.

Features

- Outq Monitors - flexibility to automatically email any spooled file placed in a specific output queue. Spooled files can be split and emailed to separate email recipients based on data on the page
- Set of CLP commands provided that can be executed from your existing application programs.
- Full API support for custom programs.
- Non-programming interface.
- Select spooled files manually and email from the PromptMail Process Request menu.
- Email your spooled files as a PDF or HTML attachment or as HTML in-line text.
- Overlay a color or black/white image on your document when it is emailed.
- Attach a trailer page to your email.
- Address books; global, personal and user; broadcast lists, inquiries, and reports to assist in managing email traffic with ease and confidence.

Free Trial Version

A fully functional free trial version of PromptMail is available for immediate use with no obligation. Simply go to www.waysidemarketing.com and click on the 30-day trial download.

Price

Wayside Marketing offers one price for PromptMail regardless of processor group. A PromptMail password is provided based on the iSeries serial number and partition. A one-time charge of $1495.00 includes the PromptMail product and one year of software maintenance.

An annual maintenance charge (optional) of $269.00 will include technical phone support Monday through Friday, 8:00am - 5:00pm EST and any new upgrades to PromptMail during that year.